The perfect setting...

A small, family run business offering a warm and friendly atmosphere, Harefield Hall is set in 28 acres of woodland in the beautiful surroundings of Nidderdale, North Yorkshire, it's clear to see why the Arch Bishop of York used to reside here and is also rumoured to have belonged to King Henry VIII.

With several different rooms to explore all with their own charm and personality, there is plenty of space to make your own.

The Hall – A spacious room filled with character, just waiting for your personal touch and easily divided into smaller rooms for more intimate occasions. The wedding breakfast takes place in the Hall and with its decorative ceiling, beautiful chandelier and large windows overlooking the dale, it certainly won't fail to impress.

The Bar – A cosy and atmospheric area within Harefield Hall, offering an open log fire, real ales and yet more stunning views across the countryside.

Reception Lounge – A cosy room located adjacent from the Hall, offering a quiet and comfortable area for you and your guests to relax and reflect on the day.

The Hotel – 14 uniquely decorated rooms available as singles, doubles and twins, most with wonderful views over Nidderdale, all including a full English breakfast the morning after, who could resist!

The Honeymoon Suite – A romantic and luxurious Bridal Suite awaits you on your wedding night, with four poster bed, soft lighting, it is a truly beautiful room to spend your first night as a married couple.
